Thanksgiving Proclamation.

It has pleased Almighty God to hearken to the supplications and prayers of an afflicted people and to vouchsafe to the army and navy of the United States victory on land and sea, so signal and effective as to furnish reasonable ground for augmented confidence that the Union of these States will be sustained their Constitution preserved and their peace and prosperity permanently restored. But these victories have been achieved not without sacrifices of life, limb health and liberty being incurred by the brave, loyal and patriotic citizens While affliction in every part of the country follows in the train of these fearful bereavements, it is meet and right to recognize and confess the presence of the Almighty Father and the power of His hand equally in these triumphs and these sorrows

Now, therefore, be it known, that I do appoint Thursday the 6th day of August next to be observed as a day of Thanksgiving Praise and Prayer and I invite the people of the United States to assemble at that season in their customary places of worship and in their usual modes of public devotion and render the homage due to the Divine Majesty for the wonderful things he hath done in our behalf and invoke the influence of His holy spirit to subdue the anger which has produced and so long sustained this needless and cruel rebellion, to change the hearts of the insurgents, to guide the Councils of the Government with wisdom adequate to so great a national emergency and to visit with tender care and consolation, throughout the length and breadth of the land all those whom, through the vicissitudes of battles and sieges, have been brought to suffer in mind, body or estate, and finally to lead the whole nation through the path of repentance and submission to Divine Will, back to perfect enjoyment of Union and fraternal peace.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed

Done at the city of Washington, on the 15th day of July in the year of our Lord 1863, and of the independence of the United States of America the eighty-eighth

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

By W H SEWARD, Secty of State

The Lesson of the Day

By the above proclamation of the President the people of the United States have been invited, to observe this day in a manner expressive of their devout thanksgiving to the Supreme Ruler of nations, whose strong right arm has won splendid victories for the nation and for the heritage of freedom That this most appropriate summons will meet with a cordial and grateful response from every loyal heart we have no doubt Millions of patriots throughout the land—though tears blind their eyes as they remember the deep and bitter losses they have borne during the war—will to-day adore and thank God for the great mercies and sublime blessings that far out weigh all their afflictions, and will thus be inspired with new hope and courage to meet the solemn and heavy responsibilities which still rest upon them and upon all who love our institutions For the rebellion is not yet crushed—the holy ark of our national liberty and independence is still in peril—the duty yet presses upon us quite as strongly as ever, to prove ourselves worthy of our glorious privileges as freemen, by continued fidelity and sacrifice in their behalf, and in no way can we prove our gratitude more sincerely than by renewing our devotion to the common cause of our country, and pledging to it our unconditional and constant support, with a sure and unconquerable faith in its complete and final triumph Acting in this spirit our patriotism will be pure and genuine, and will rise above all mere party or personal prejudice It will make us realize, while we recognize a Divine power above and over all that we are accountable agents, and must employ all the resources in our power, as custodians of civil liberty, to guard and protect it for the nation's, for the world's good We owe our allegiance to the government as its lawful defender, and we cannot call ourselves patriots, or be truly grateful for past victories if for any reason we refuse our cordial support to that defender No intelligent lover of his country who justly values the inheritance of freedom inherits with hope for the progress of civilization and liberty on the American continent no philanthropist whose heart beats with fraternal sympathy for all the race no Christian man alive in the spirit of his Divine Master, to the highest interests of mankind can by word or act by pen or tongue, by any influence direct or indirect, hinder, obstruct or discourage the government in its stupendous undertaking in this its terrible ordeal Whoever should do so must expose his patriotism to more than suspicion and himself to future and certain shame No alarm cries about violations of the constitution, no jealousy for the mere letter of that venerable charter, no pretense of anxious watchfulness for popular rights, much less for those of the States confederated in the great conspiracy no wrathful fury against those who hate slavery and desire its abolition would avail to save him from an infamy in history which to every manly nature is full of horror

Let us all then stand by the government—a grand united invincible host of liberty loving citizens of every political shade—and support it cordially earnestly Let us hold it up with might and main for if it should fall it would 'grind us to powder," and the world would hear a crash and behold a ruin more terrible and full of despair than humanity yet ever knew In the name of Him who by the hands of our fathers reared its majestic pillars let us maintain it sinking all subordinate issues in allegiance till the war is over Though not approving this or that measure though regretting this or that plan of action, though dissenting from those who administer it on many incidental questions still let us stand by it in good spirit and in every report, with heart and soul and mind and all our strength Watch it instruct it criticise it, but stand by it This is our duty first last and always

No! every true man I'll sing it!
To be calm upon the battle field or fair
The freeman and the Christian's motto
To gun and vote and prayer

The Beef Embargo

The following are the orders and instructions, in accordance with which the exportation of live stock is prohibited by Custom House officers As many of our readers are interested in the trade which is thus superseded, we publish them for their information though we have no idea that the order or instructions were ever intended to be enforced on the coast inasmuch as the motive for issuing them at the East, has no force here We suppose, however that collectors must obey them, without presuming to exercise any discretion until the proper department excepts the Pacific districts from their operation

WAR DEPARTMENT
WASHINGTON CITY May 1 1863

Information has been received by this Department that sundry persons are purchasing horses and mules within the United States for exportation, contrary to the Executive order of November 21, 1862 In the and that during the present war the military resources of our Government should not be withdrawn from the country, the commandants of Departments are directed to prohibit the purchase and sale of all horses and mules, within the limits of their respective commands to be exported from the United States, and to take and appropriate to the use of the Government any horses, mules, and live stock designed for exportation, causing the value thereof to be appraised and reported to the Quartermaster General and they are enjoined vigilantly to enforce the Executive Order of November 21 1862, prohibiting the exportation of arms ammunition, or munitions of war Claims for property taken under this order will be presented to the Quartermaster General for adjustment E M STANTON

Circular to the Collectors of Customs

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
May 19, 1863

The attention of Collectors is called to the order of the President of the United States of the date of November 21, 1862 copy whereof is hereby enclosed By an order of the Secretary of War of the 15th inst, copy whereof is also enclosed, horses, mules and live stock are included within the terms of that order Collectors are therefore directed to refuse clearances for the exportation of horses, mules and live stock, and to cause the detention of all animals attempted to be exported in violation of the orders hereinbefore mentioned and this circular, and report such detention to the commander of the nearest Military District for his action in pursuance of the order of the Secretary of War S P CHASE
Secretary of the Treasury

A T STEWART'S INCOME TAX —The N Y Post says that A T Stewart is said to be so entirely in the dark as to the amount on which his income tax should be based that he has the credit for telling the Assessor his trouble and adding that "he could not tell whether his income for 1863 was more or less than two million, but he was willing to pay tax on that amount, as being in his opinion nearly enough correct for all practical purposes" So saying he handed over his check for the neat little sum of $60,000! There is little room to doubt whether any other individual in the country will go into the income tax business this year with such a looseness as the New York Merchant, Prince

THE FORT AT THE MOUTH OF THE COLUMBIA —We learn that the Fort at Cape Disappointment is to mount twenty gun casemates consisting of 15 inch Rodman's and 10 inch Columbiads The construction of the work is under the immediate charge of Capt Elliott Gen De Russy (father of Gen De Russy who is in charge of the fortifications in Washington) Inspector of Fortifications on this Coast was at Fort Astoria having arrived in the last steamer

THE RESOURCES OF THE WEST —Pennsylvania has 175,000 loyal true men in the Union army That is the reason why the blatant cowardly Copperheads had the Legislature last winter and why so few of the State militia responded to the call of Governor Curtin in the defense of the State capital from Lee and the rebel hordes

The large coffee speculators have not all made a good thing out of their speculation The price has become so enormous since last year, that thousands of families have entirely discontinued the use of coffee and immense lots of the article remain in the store houses in New York and elsewhere, they losing the interest

FORT BENTON —Up to the 2d day of June no steamer from the East had arrived at Fort Benton, and on account of the low stage of water it was feared that none could reach that point

Election at Boise

A correspondent of the State Journal writes from Bannock City that an election was held on the 14th of July in that county, which resulted in the election of the following named county officers

Sheriff, J D Williams, Judge of Probate, John M Murphy Auditor, A G Brown Assessor, R Allen, Treasurer Thomas Kelham, Prosecuting Attorney, I N Smith, Superintendent Common Schools, Myers, Coroner Dr Crane, County Commissioners, R C Coombs, I C Smith, M Cosgrove The vote polled amounted to over 2 000 and was a very light one not comprising one half of the legal voters in the county

The relative population of Bannock City, Centreville and Placerville the three principal precincts cannot be better exhibited than by the number of votes cast in each place as follows Bannock, 1 136 Centreville 10 which instant 14b Placerville 14 unties 421 In addition to these Fort Hog em Granite Creek and Payette precincts gave between 200 and 300 more votes

There are over 2 500 claims recorded in the Bannock City District most of which cannot now be worked on account of the scarcity of water Both Moore's and Elk creeks which are out this early, are falling, not furnishing as much water by one third as three weeks ago In the Centreville District over 2 000 claims have been recorded and nearly or quite the same number in the Fort Boise or Pioneer District both of which are situated upon Grimes creek, which furnishes much more water at present than Moore's creek In the Placerville District over 4 500 claims are recorded making a total of over 11 000 mining claims taken up and recorded—for the most part within the last few months

These claims will all pay something, and much ground that has been prospected besides will also pay fair wages, but the claims have not been recorded Perhaps 15 000 claims would be about a high figure at which to estimate the mining region of Boise already located

Some idea of the amount of the trading and business generally carried on, may be gathered from the number of packanimals and trains going constantly and coming bringing in freight On any way we met or passed on the road between Umatilla and Boise during the month of June, there were constantly from 50 to 100 animals in each train not less than five 5,000lb freight wagons, most of them ox teams were loaded were be can duty Multiply these figures by 13 the number of days taken in traveling by stage from Umatilla to Bannock and you have a tolerably approximate idea of the number of wagons and animals engaged in this business over the route The back animal will be remembered all carry from 250 to 400 pounds each the wagons from 2,000 to 5 000 pounds each

Since I have been in the mines the two articles of flour and beans are the only ones of which I have heard complaints made by traders that not enough for profit was at present made upon them

A FEW WORDS ABOUT GENERAL GRANT —This seems to us an appropriate time to say a few words about General Grant's habits It has been often asserted by malicious persons, and often repeated by the ignorant and credulous that this officer was a drunkard On several occasions his enemies tried to ruin him by making representations to this effect at Washington We have reason to know that while General Grant was giving all his energies to the country his feelings and those of his family were deeply hurt by the repetition of these slanders But the General kept silent, and worked only the more zealously for the Union the more he was misrepresented But he worked and fought with the unpleasant knowledge that if he failed, all that his bitterest and meanest enemies had reported of him would be held proved After the capture of Fort Donelson an effort was made to effect the disgrace of Grant on the charge of drunkenness The Secretary of War deserves credit for the reply he gave—that he would not consider such a charge when made against the captor of Donelson Since then the firmness of the President and Secretary of War has been tried a number of times in this matter, especially after the battle of Shiloh It is believed that the capture of Vicksburg will silence these slanders

We have satisfactory reason to believe that the charges which have been made against this our most successful General are entirely without foundation in truth He does not drink strong drink, he is not the slave of that or any other habit he is temperate—abstemious even—and neither at Fort Henry nor at Fort Donelson, nor at Shiloh, nor before Vicksburg nor at any time since the opening of the war, was he ever seen or known by any one to be under the influence of liquor He is a pure simple-minded patriotic officer who has at heart the good of his country and that only, who has no desires for political distinction has not endeavored to make for time out of the war and has therefore been able to give his whole mind and heart and time to his duties This accounts in good part for his successes, and has made him today the General who has taken more prisoners and gained more fruitful victories than all our other Generals together If any one, after this, still believes that Grant is a drunkard we do not desire to persuade the Government to place more but drunkards in important commands —New York Evening Post

NEW MINES IN THE COEUR D'ALENE —Again has the eccentric prospector announced new gold diggings to the southeast after wandering to the mountains, hills ravines and gulches North and East of us The latest has been bell for a single time that we have of the Salmon River abounds in gold but the full extent would also fall short of the truth Those who have been there say that the bed has been struck in many places and that regular rich and large and extensive deposits in the vicinity of Pretty Lake Little Peend Oreille river and the Spokane river exceeded in quantity all that has been found in the Territory to the best knowledge of the writer Those who have been there say that the bars on the Columbia and Spokane rivers are rich beyond description and that they were satisfied that extensive diggings were struck So great was the excitement when Wallula that nearly every man, woman and child in that place left for the new diggings Mr C Thatcher who left Wallula on the 15th inst informed us that on that day about thirty miles above Wallula parties had succeeded in getting a full days work in the sand bars on the Columbia

NOTICE.—In conformity with the proclamation of President Lincoln ordaining that ... day (Thursday) ... an occasion for general thanksgiving to the Creator for our recent victories by sea and land, we shall not publish any edition of the OREGONIAN to-morrow. In Saturday morning's paper, however, will be published full details of all transpiring events.

THE CAMELS.—These curious animals were advertised for exhibition to the public yesterday, but owing to the somewhat erratical temperament of their owner, who decided to postpone the proposed show to some future indefinite occasion they were yesterday morning taken somewhere into the interior of the State. Many of our citizens will no doubt be much disappointed to not having an opportunity of inspecting them.

ABBOTT'S HISTORY OF THE WAR.—We received yesterday from Mr A B Butler sole agent for Oregon and Washington Territory, a copy of the first volume of Abbott's "History of the Civil War in America." The volume is handsomely bound, and contains a large number of excellent steel engravings, representing important battle fields and portraits of the principal generals and statesmen of the times. We have not yet read this interesting volume, but shall do so at our earliest leisure, when we will speak of it more fully. This is a work that should be procured by every one desiring a faithful and eloquent history of the great rebellion.

ARRIVED.—The steamer Julia, on her arrival from the Cascades last evening brought a very large number of passengers, and about $10,000 in gold dust to Wells, Fargo & Co. Upwards of four hundred and fifty pounds of gold dust was brought from the mines by private parties.

THANKS.—Hon. B F Harding will please accept our grateful acknowledgements for a copy of the Congressional Report on the Conduct of the War.

We are also indebted to A G Myers, Esq., of Washington City, for a like favor.

THE WEATHER still continues clear and bracing. The thermometer yesterday evening, at four o'clock, indicated 76° in the shade and 98° in the sun.

THEATRE.—The great French drama of "The Dead Heart, or the Destruction of the Bastile," will be performed at the theater this evening. This sensational play is considered to be one of the most popular ever produced on the Parisian boards and has met with unprecedented success throughout the Eastern States and Europe. Robert Landry is one of Mr Waldrun's most favorite characters, and we have no doubt he will be as successful here as he was in San Francisco, where his affecting rendition of "Landry" was considered a chef d'œuvre of histrionic art. The performances will conclude with the laughable farce of "Family Jars."

SERMON.—Rev Mr Cornelius will preach at the Baptist Church this morning, at half past 10 o'clock.

MILITARY.—The Mountaineer says that under the law passed at the last session of the Legislature, the Third Brigade has been divided into three regimental districts, and the following persons have been appointed and commissioned therein: First District embracing the county of Wasco, Wm Logan, Colonel, L W Coe, Lieutenant Colonel, Otis S. Savage, Major. Second District, embracing the county of Umatilla, Eli Stewart, Colonel, no appointment for Lieutenant Colonel, A J. Kane, Major. Third District, embracing the county of Baker, W R. Park, Colonel, no appointment for Lieutenant Colonel, Thomas J Law, Major. The staff of Gen Humason consists of Jas A Odell, Assistant Adjutant General, with the rank of Major, Dr A H. Steele, Surgeon with the rank of Major, C R Mauge and Nathan Olney, Aids-de-camp, with the rank of Captains.

THURSTON COUNTY.—We fear—Some of the Oregon papers convey a wrong impression of the result of the election in Thurston county. It was the People's Union ticket that was elected throughout—the People's organization being a distinct affair from the clique faction. The officials mostly went over to the Democracy worked and voted for it, leading it with their support, and securing the election of the whole People's ticket. Let it be distinctly known that no Thurston county man of the whole Territory, whatever the leaders of the clique have touched the people have damned.—Overland Press.

A CLINCHER.—An earnest advocate of the "let 'em go in peace" doctrine, residing not a thousand miles from this city, a few days since by the way of a clincher, wound up a discussion in this wise:

"I tell ye we shall never have peace until they stop fighting."

The Unionist found it convenient to subside at this stage of the proceedings, which reupon the disciple of Davis walked away with an air of conscious victory.—Petaluma Journal.

BOISE ROAD.—The subscriptions to the Boise road thus far foot up $7,500. The committee having the matter in charge were out but a few minutes yesterday, and in that time obtained subscriptions to the amount of $4500.—Mountaineer.

MARRIED:

In Vancouver W T on Wednesday August 5th 1863 by Rev J O Raymond Mr W I Mayfield and Miss Elizabeth Engle, both of the City of Portland, Oregon.

We sincerely congratulate our old and esteemed friend Mayfield and were we not magnanimous would envy his happiness. We gratefully acknowledge the receipt of a large piece of cake and a number of bottles of choice wine and many were the fervent good wishes pledged to the prosperity and joy of the happy couple. If the prayers of the poor printers are heard a never ending honeymoon awaits them.

DIED:

DR. BAKER'S
PAIN PANACEA.

Is combined entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oils and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can recommend sincerely myself that I have never known any however ... to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted who have not used it to try it for the following diseases. If they are not satisfied with the healing ... the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels try a dose or Pain Panacea internally bathe externally over the parts affected and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely and take a dose of it internally morning noon and night. It will not only cure the pain but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia and your food distresses your stomach after eating take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat apply the Pain Panacea, ... affected parts and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhœa or a relaxed state of the bowels take a dose of Pain Panacea. ... will soon be relieved. If you have a painful swelling bathe the parts freely and you will soon relieve pain and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a sore to thatche, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of ... and bathe gum at the same time, it will stop the pain at once.

If you have pain in the Back or Kidneys, bathe freely ... right at the same time ... By the Panacea as hot ... can bear it.

If you should have cold feet you were going to have a fever, take and use freely ... by the Panacea and use of your horse, apply to the Panacea ... it will ... all the inflammation.

A Pennsylvanian Inside the Rebel Lines

A correspondent of the Harrisburg Herald risked a journey toward Gettysburg a few days since and was captured by the rebels. He records his observations within their lines:

General Early was a tall and well looking personage, very gentlemanly and dignified in his deportment. He sported a full beard, and was dressed in the rebel uniform, with the star of a Major General decorating his collar, and a capacious brown felt hat, looped up at the right side, resting upon his head. When I first saw him he was in the act of giving to a citizen a copy of General Lee's orders setting forth the terms upon which private property would be taken. I approached him and opened the conversation:

"I belong to Cumberland valley, General," said I, "and desire to pass to my home."

General Early—"I have no time to attend to you just now; but if it is proper for you to go, there will be no obstruction offered to your departure."

This speech was uttered in a very sharp and decisive manner, but still without being tinged with anything like discourtesy.

I immediately bowed myself out of the great man's presence, and mingling with the mass of soldiers, discovered that they were a part of Ewell's corps, and composed principally of Georgia and Louisiana regiments. Among the latter were the remnant of the Louisiana Tigers and a few Welsh and Irish regiments from New Orleans.

General Early seemed to be no great favorite with the rebels. They said the army disliked him greatly, and that they knew several fellows who would shoot him (Early) just as quick as they would "a damned Yankee" if they only got a proper opportunity. About General Ewell, on the other hand, they spoke in the most favorable terms. When I ventured to inquire of them where their army was going, one of them replied:

"I don't know where the army is going, and I don't care a d—n. Old Lee is the boy to lead us into a scrape or out of one, and we don't care a d—n."

As I before stated, I regarded this conversation as important only as showing the feeling of the lower order of the rebel army, and as indicating how thoroughly the officers have succeeded in imbuing their men with their own ultra sentiments.

Arriving at Stouffertown, I was informed that General Robert Lee, the rebel General-in-Chief, was encamped in the woods just ahead, only half a mile from Chambersburg. Having some curiosity to see this arch rebel I inquired of one of the soldiers where I could see General Lee. He pointed out to me a tall, fine looking officer, sitting in front of a spacious tent, with one leg crossed over the other, and his head slightly depressed, with his eyes evidently vacantly bent on the ground. He appeared to be in deep thought, and seemingly did not notice what was occurring around him. I could not help thinking, while gazing upon this distinguished rebel, that his was the head of a man of more than ordinary ability. Perhaps even then he was maturing the details of some grand campaign by which he hoped to outgeneral our Union commanders.

In and around Chambersburg the rebels captured some fifty negroes, most of whom were contrabands, and had sent them on the road to Dixie under a suitable escort. But the brave citizens of Greencastle turned out, captured the rebel guard, and sent the darkies on their way rejoicing.

This audacious act coming to the ears of Gen Jenkins, he immediately ordered the citizens of Greencastle to pay damages to the tune of fifty thousand dollars, under the penalty of having their town burned to ashes before sundown. The amount of damages was subsequently reduced to one half, but even this the Greencastlers would not pay, and their town still stands, notwithstanding the threat of Jenkins the mighty. All of her stores, however, have been thoroughly plundered.

SMALL HOOPS.—A lady correspondent writes to ask if it is true that hoops are worn so very small, and if the reduction in size does not presage their utter extinction.

It is quite true that the latest style in hoops have reached the minimum point as regards size. They are so small that they just fit round the hips, and flow out gradually to the base in a moderate and graceful bell shape. We confess to liking them very much, infinitely better than when they were double the size. The manufacture has reached great perfection; they are beautifully, and at the same time strongly made, and if of the best quality (the best are always the cheapest), will last a long time and give an amount of ease and comfort to the wearer which renders them doubly valuable.

Our correspondent need be under no apprehension that hooped skirts will disappear altogether, at least for many years to come. They are the greatest blessing that was ever bestowed upon women in the shape of an article of clothing, and women understand this thoroughly, and, we think, would hardly relinquish them, even at the dictate of fashion. They are, besides, so closely interwoven now with extensive manufacturing interests that they would be sure to reappear in some form or other. The flowing skirt must be distended in some way so long as it is worn, and the small hoop, unobtrusive as the style as now, when it is properly worn, is surely greatly preferable to the mass of stiffened cotton from which it relieves us.—Jennie June, in the New York Sunday Times.

In our Revolutionary war, the English held possession of a stronghold, which our forces could not gain, unless with a knowledge of how matters were conducted inside. Anthony Wayne, "Mad Anthony," as he was called, undertook this dangerous and delicate service. He spoke Dutch like a native, and getting into a cart, he loaded it with cabbages and started for the fort. So complete was his disguise, that no suspicions were entertained. He brought just what the garrison needed, he took time to peddle them all out, and was suffered to depart. The next day the fort was taken, when the officer recognized Wayne at the head, and very coolly asked, "Sir, how do you sell cabbages to-day?"

DR. D. JAYNES' EXPECTORANT AND SANATIVE PILLS

HAVE BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC SO LONG and so well known that it would seem almost superfluous for us to say anything in their favor. Suffice it to say that they have sustained their high reputation during the past year, and are now considered by all who have given them a trial as the best remedies for the cure of all Pulmonary Complaints that have ever been discovered.

Diseases of the Lungs & Throat,

Indeed, in the first stages of CONSUMPTION, if used according to the directions, they will in a majority of cases effect a cure. Even in the last stages of the disease they will give relief, and in many cases prolong life for months and years, when all other remedies have failed.

The EXPECTORANT

Operates immediately upon the Disease,

SUBDUING AND SPEEDILY ERADICATING IT

while the SANATIVE PILLS by operating upon the Bowels and giving a healthy tone to the digestive organs, aid and assist the perfect operation of the Expectorant.

Attention is asked to the Flow of Spirits and Vitality that results from the use of the proprietors.

Uniontown, Fayette County, Pa., July 15, 1863.

DR. D. JAYNES—Having been afflicted with ASTHMA and BRONCHITIS, and having used various remedies, by the most eminent physicians, without skillful treatment, I was not able to procure relief, or be of much benefit to myself or family, suffering, until I commenced using your EXPECTORANT. After taking but a few bottles of it I was entirely cured. NATHAN LENNS PACKER.

Astoria, Long Island, Jan. 15, 1863.

L. W. TINKLE, Esq., New York—Sir: A year ago last winter I had been afflicted with BRONCHITIS, or something like it, the most painful tightness of the chest, and great difficulty in breathing for nearly two months, so that I could not sleep, or rest in the least, at all, only when in the power of medicine. At last, when your friendly agent, Captain Hagan, called with his well known EXPECTORANT, Dr. Jaynes' of Philadelphia. Three or four days after having commenced to take it my cough left entirely, and I feel that the expectoration was over. And I strongly urge all to take it,
